Last night, Friday, November 13th, JRB Art at The Elms hosted a socially distanced opening for its November - December exhibits, featuring the work of two gallery artists Holly Wilson and Behnaz Sohrabian.

Both shows featured works in different genres and techniques. "Seven Sides of the Self," by Wilson showcased her skillful bronze sculptures, photographs, and paintings, while "Human," by Sohrabian presented her beautifully diverse portrait, landscape, floral, nude and abstract paintings.

Both exhibitions will be on display at the gallery Tuesday through Saturday from 11:00am to 5:00pm and are available to view online at www.jrbartgallery.com.
